The Liberace Museum was founded April 15, 1979, by the late entertainer Liberace. The Museum features "Mr. Showmanship's" dazzling jewelry, rare antiques, unsurpassed wardrobe, unique and historical pianos and his custom car collection. The non-profit Museum supports the work of The Liberace Foundation for the Performing and Creative Arts which has funded scholarships for the arts since 1976. The scholarship program has distributed over over 5 million dollars and touched the lives of more than 2,200 students at 100 universities. The Liberace Museum is divided into two areas: Building One houses the Piano and Car Galleries; Building Two showcases the Costume and Jewelry Collections, a re-creation of Liberace's Palm Springs bedroom, and the Awards Gallery.

The Grand Gallery showcases changing exhibitions. Through May, 2003 see "Legends Are Born: Liberace and Las Vegas 1940s-1960s." Example pieces of Liberace's collections can be found in Building Two, including pieces of rare Moser crystal from Czechoslovakia. Liberace owned service for 12, with 14 individual glasses for each setting. It is one of two collections ever hand made, the other is owned by Queen Elizabeth. Erotic Art Heritage Museum - <http://eroticheritagemuseum.com>

Welcome to the Erotic Heritage Museum. We invite you to behold and explore the vast array of socio-cultural perspectives depicting our erotic heritage, including a special emphasis on the unfolding of the American Sexual Revolution of the 20th Century. The Museum seeks to bridge the gap between that which is commercial and often misidentified as pornographic, with that which is aesthetic, often identified as folk, pop, and fine art through a common visual language.

The Museum encompasses over 24,000 square feet of permanent and featured exhibits designed to preserve wonders of the erotic imagination as depicted through the artistic expression of acts of sex and love. In keeping with the legacy of the American Sexual Revolution, the Museum is dedicated to the belief that sexual pleasure and fun are natural aspects of the human experience, that such pleasure must be made available to all, and that our individual sexuality belongs to each of us. Come and explore the Erotic Heritage Museum. Here you'll discover a wide range of materials that are sure to entice your senses and excite your mind!

Red Rock State Park & Bonnie Springs Ranch

The canyons and rocks of Nevada will thrill the visitor with a medley of colors created by Mother Nature. Red Rock Canyon Nevada is located 15 miles outside of Las Vegas. "Red Rock," as the Nevada locals call it, gets its name from the striking red sandstone formations that can be found throughout the valley. The contrast of the red sandstone strata against the gray limestone is an impressive sight. Be prepared to see some strikingly dramatic scenery! The area is so exquisite that it is often used for movie sets and commercials. The Red Rock Canyon State Park has a number of great places for a picnic. Rock climbing, hiking and biking can also be enjoyed. Be sure to pay a visit to the Visitor's Center, where you can see a number of intriguing exhibits. The Visitor's Center also has a desert tortoise habitat.

The Wild West is still as wild as ever in Old Nevada, a replica of an 1880's mining town built on the 115-acre Bonnie Springs Ranch. You can visit the past again. Bonnie Springs Old Nevada is John Wayne country. Boarded sidewalks that creak pleasantly under your feet, saloons, tumbleweeds, stagecoaches, and even a Boot Hill Cemetery.
